

Teching Your List and Geeking It Twice – Technology Supplement, New Mexico Business Weekly, December 21, 2001

Are you stumped about what to get that special techie geek for Christmas? Here's what the leading technological minds of New Mexico are looking for under the tree.

Todd Clarke, commercial real estate broker for Grubb & Ellis | Lewinger Hamilton

What gadget do you covet for Christmas?

Handspring Treo. It is even tinier than the previous version of this brand. It is super cool.

What present item can't you live without?

Sony Picture Book. It has a tiny laptop camera on it. It just has everything in that machine. I carry it with me 24 hours a day, anywhere I go.

What is the weirdest gift you have ever received?

My sixth grade sweetheart gave me a soap-on-a-rope skateboard from Avon.

What's the best gift you ever got?

Time. It is such a precious commodity. When I went out shopping this weekend for gifts, I realized if I could spend as much time with family and friends as I did shopping for gifts that would be what I would want to do.

What gift can you recommend for the tech minded?

Handspring Palm Pilots. I gave them to people in the office and they get such a kick out of it. One person even told me they were able to download movies onto it. They just love it. Also, a Visioneer Paper Port. It is a scanner that downloads notes, presentations onto your computer. I have it at my office and it is amazing how many file cabinets have gone empty because of this machine.
