A Welcome from President Goldstein

It is my pleasure to welcome you to The University of New Mexico.

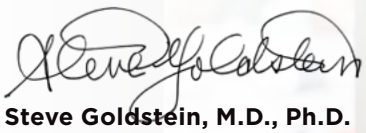

My first visit to UNM was unforgettable. Some people are drawn to the striking beauty of our campus and the rich cultural heritage reflected in its architecture and landscape. Others discover our vibrant university where world-class teaching, groundbreaking research, inspiring performances, exceptional museums and athletic prowess all come together in one place. For me, it was all this, plus the warm embrace of the community.

This visitor guide offers a glimpse of all that UNM has to offer. As New Mexico's flagship university, UNM is a place where education, discovery, healthcare, arts and culture, athletics, and community come together to create opportunities that will help you find your passion.

But what makes UNM truly without equal is our people. Every member of the Lobo community contributes to a culture of curiosity, compassion, and service that extends far beyond our campuses. Together, we are preparing tomorrow's leaders, advancing discovery, improving health, strengthening communities, and creating economic opportunities with impact throughout New Mexico and across the nation.

Whether you're thinking about becoming a Lobo, reconnecting as an alumnus, visiting from across the globe, or exploring from the neighborhood, I know your time here will leave you inspired, connected, and eager to return.

Thank you for visiting, and welcome to The University of New Mexico.

Steve Goldstein, M.D., Ph.D.
President

INDIGENOUS PEOPLES' LAND AND TERRITORY ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Founded in 1889, The University of New Mexico sits on the traditional homelands of the Pueblo of Sandia. The original peoples of New Mexico—Pueblo, Navajo and Apache—since time immemorial, have deep connections to the land and have made significant contributions to the broader community statewide. We honor the land itself and those who remain stewards of this land throughout the generations and also acknowledge our committed relationship to Indigenous peoples. We gratefully recognize our history.

COLLEGE OF NURSING

NURSING IS MORE THAN A CAREER – IT'S A CALLING.

The University of New Mexico College of Nursing leads the way in nursing education. Our students come from all walks of life. Different perspectives. Different journeys. But one shared purpose.

That's why we provide hands-on learning. Why we develop groundbreaking research. Why we prepare students to step into critical roles in hospitals, clinics and rural areas. Because everyone deserves access to care.

We educate the next generation of nurses, providers, nurse leaders and nurse scientists.

LOVE WHERE YOU LIVE

STATISTICALLY SPEAKING, STUDENTS WHO LIVE ON CAMPUS ACHIEVE HIGHER GPAs THAN THOSE WHO DON'T.

One of the best choices you can make as you start your college career is to live close to campus. Even better, consider living right on campus, because you should spend your time being here, not getting here.

CAMPUS CULTURE IS ROOTED IN CUISINE

Albuquerque's unique flavors are found everywhere at UNM. Because here, dining can be an experience as well as a dish. That's why you'll find our culinary culture outside of the kitchen, too. We share in the moment and the meal. Roasting the unofficial food of New Mexico—green chile—outside and by the ton. Hosting food festivals across campus to feature local farmers in unexpected celebrations of food and drink. Food is a lifestyle here.

WELCOME TO THE NEIGHBORHOOD

The experiences that New Mexico offers to the UNM community are a core part of being a Lobo. Of seeking adventure. Experiences that bring us together and push us out of our comfort zone.

The Land of Enchantment has memories in store for everyone.

With thick pine forests giving way to breathtaking desert vistas, rolling sand dunes and ski-worthy snowdrifts, this is one of the country's preeminent places for outdoor adventuring. Here, you can find thousands of miles of hiking trails, rugged mountain ranges, world-class winter sports and some of the region's most breathtaking natural and historic sites—all waiting to be explored.

If you're seeking the metropolitan vibe, Albuquerque is the place to be. With the warmth of a small town—and notoriously friendly—the almost-a-million-strong metro area is home to a vibrant mix of cultures and people. Walk along centuries-old streets lined with historic buildings, pop into a contemporary museum, eat some of the best blue corn enchiladas you've ever had, then catch a show fresh off Broadway, all without leaving the city.

RESEARCH THAT EMPOWERS

LIVING AND LEARNING AS COMMUNITIES, POLICY MAKERS AND LOBOS.

As the state's premier R1 university, The University of New Mexico stands at the forefront of intersectional exploration, innovation and discovery—addressing significant issues affecting our region, nation and planet.

Our research landscape is vibrant and ever-changing. Through the Presidential Grand Challenges program, research teams level-up from promising research proposals to thriving official centers at UNM, driving real-world and complex change. Through multidisciplinary collaboration, UNM research teams work to improve the lives of New Mexicans—and beyond.

In 2025, the UNM Grand Challenges program introduced six new Level 1 teams:

Multilingualism Matters

Increasing understanding of linguistic diversity and development in bilingual children, including those with language delays, deaf children acquiring signed languages and Indigenous children acquiring their traditional languages.

Disaster Resilience

Developing a multidisciplinary community-based disaster resilience training, recovery and capacity-building approach to mitigate disaster compression throughout New Mexico.

Rural Perinatal Access

Providing data and research to engage equitable, safe and accessible perinatal services for rural communities. Engagement with rural communities will be foundational to identifying solutions.

Trustworthy AI

Seeking to develop artificial intelligence systems that are provably and practically trustworthy.

Safer Streets

Investigating the rise in road fatalities and the overall design of our transportation systems to develop targeted interventions in an effort to improve public safety.

Timescales of Biodiversity Change (BioTime)

Working to improve predictions and strategies for managing the outcomes of environmental change on the biosphere.

IT'S (PROBABLY) NOT ROCKET SCIENCE

It's (Probably) Not Rocket Science is a UNM podcast production.

Together, we'll explore complex, hot topics and new research impacting our society today through conversations with scholarly experts, academic creatives and researchers from The University of New Mexico.

Here, we unravel multifaceted, in-depth research and arrive at a place of better understanding. So, with confidence we can say, "no, it's not rocket science," (and it probably won't be) but you'll leave feeling a little smarter every time you listen.

ENCHANTMENT

SOAKED IN SUN AND HISTORY, AND SURROUNDED BY STRIKING, UNTAMED NATURAL BEAUTY, NEW MEXICO IS MORE THAN A STATE. IT'S ALSO A STATE OF MIND. EASYGOING AND NATURAL, YET PROUD AND DETERMINED. RESPECTFUL AND TRADITIONAL, YET FORWARD-THINKING. THIS IS WHERE OLD AND NEW, LIGHT AND SHADOW, AND THOUSANDS OF VARIATIONS OF HUNDREDS OF CULTURES COME TOGETHER. AND GET ALONG.

HISTORY & TRADITION

GREEN CHILE ROASTS

For more than 50 years, UNM Alumni regional chapters have shared a taste of New Mexico with Lobos across the country through our annual Green Chile Roasts. These events keep growing, with a record 13,725 pounds of green chile roasted at 15 events across Albuquerque and the United States in 2025. These gatherings help alumni stay connected after graduation, support student scholarships and strengthen the Lobo community from coast to coast.

HANGING OF THE GREENS

Dating back to the 1930s, Hanging of the Greens is a time-honored holiday tradition at UNM. The campus is beautifully illuminated by more than 13,000 luminarias. The community gathers to carol with Santa, Mrs. Claus and Lobo Louie and Lucy, while walking to University House to present UNM's president with a holiday wreath.

HOMECOMING: PACK WEEK

Can you hear the howl calling you home? Hosted by the UNM Alumni Association and campus partners, Pack Week brings Lobo students, graduates, families and friends together for a series of events celebrating our cherry and silver spirit. It all culminates in the Homecoming football game and tailgate at University Stadium.
